

THE BAIT OF THIS AUTUMN

Now that the days are shorter and temperatures drop, it is a good time to take a nice carp.

We all know that fish are being prepared for the winter, they will eat more aggressive than at other times of year, it will be pretty sparse, solving the equation pressure-temperature-depth, again indicate it where to put our rigs.

Is this a good time to catch a big carp, based on a good bait, success is guaranteed.

In this article we propose to use Live System of CCM, we all know the impact it has had throughout the year the arrival of the N-Gage XP, and how many fish we caught with it, but last autumn and winter I had a great success with Live System, and I hope to repeat in 2010.

The Live System is a perfect bait for this time of year is very digestive and nutritional, for the yeast and powders that compose it, and the particular smell, which makes it succeed where others fail.

The strategy is to build on the exclusive use of boilies, nothing more than a couple of kilos of boilies and a catapult or a throwing stick will work well, make an area, scattered, will not attract the attention of small fish mass and increase the chance to catch a big one!

Remember to extend a bit lower your hooklength, this system fish will not go slowly with their mouths glued to the bottom tracking for particulate matter is now going to be a more dynamic search, a boilie here, another there ... The use a long rigs improves our chances.

Another option is the use of overvalued Chod Rig, 4x4, over silt, weed or gravel ... in another article I will show you how to ride properly and some tips on its use, but in this, I show you the most necessary for this situation, a quality pop up.

When we caught on boilies, need one attractive and visual, nothing better than use a cork ball pop up, exactly the same, both in visual appearance and in chemical compounds.

CCM has a range of cork ball pop ups that we acquire in our favorite store, but for fans of homemade baits, here's how to make them. In Spain you can find this products in www.carpones.com or in www.cebocarp.com as well.

First I add a tea spoon dip in one egg to increase the attraction, one egg is enough to make a handful of baits.

It is best to use bait hard base mix, we make more perfect balls and will not crack, if we havent, with the addition of egg albumen to your favorite mix will be enough.

Mix well so that is nice and smooth, and mould of a ball of cork, CCM 6 mm cork balls are ideal to make the 10-12mm. Remember to soak the balls in water for stick the paste well.

Cook for one minute, at least some properties do not lose the bait and you have a perfect pop up.

Once we finish, we can keep the remaining paste in the freezer, this pasta is a superb winter bait.

I'm already using this strategy successfully this autumn, look at this common of 15.5 kg, luck and be happy fishing.
