

Dale Common falls for N-Gage XP

The end of a testing spring campaign on a pressured North West venue arrived for Andy Freeman when he managed to catch one of the most sought after fish in the region in the form of The Dale Common.

Using the incredibly successful N-Gage XP freezer baits Andy hooked his target fish, on a 14mm air ball pop up presented over a bed of 100 baits fished on a pre-baited spot tight to far margin snags, at a fighting fit spring weight of 39lb 6oz and confirmed that the fish had obviously been enjoying the superb N-Gage XP, constantly passing it on the mat as it was unhooked.

Our congratulations and best wishes go to Andy for his great result.....a stunning fish that is not only sought after, but also very tricky to catch.

Well done Andy!
