A SUMMER SLUDGE SOLUTION

This summer I mentioned that due to the variety of anglers and baits being used on the complex that I was fishing over a sludge made from various ingredients, so I thought that step by step article was in order to illustrate how the sludge is made. Now In the summer I use a mix based around the Meteor boillie range and later in the year I change to a Live System Slurry. You can also add other ingredients such as groundbait bases, stick mixes, halibut pellets etc the list is endless!

Meteor boillies are very rich in liver, meat proteins, yeasts, haemoglobin, hydrolysed animal proteins and Robin Red, in order to create an enzyme-rich, well-rounded, instant-impact spicy meat bait that uses a complex liquid attractor pack incorporating Liquid Liver, Red Venom, Frankfurter, Scopex, Hydrolysed meat proteins, liquid yeasts and active enzymes, the solubility of the finished bait helps which emit huge plumes of attraction as it quickly breaks down in water.

Cantax pellets contain fish proteins, wheat germ, betaine and salts, Cantax Red 365 Pellets also contain a telltale red canthaxanthin that fish find incredibly attractive. This invaluable nutrient (as found in Meggablend Red and the famous Robin Red) cannot be underestimated.

Red Venom Incorporates exclusively produced ingredients, a specific pepper product, sugars, oils and the optimum level of the devastating Carophyll Red, Red Venom provides incredible attraction properties that can now be applied to pellets, particles, spod, stick, method and boillie mixes as well as being suitable for use in bags as it doesn't melt PVA.

White Haze is a superb combination of white and cream coloured particles presents a milky, bright and visually attractive carpet feed option full of proven fish catching baits. Cooked in the container with our recently developed white nut liquid, this mix of Haricot Beans, Groats, Wheat, Crushed Peanuts and Coarse Ground Tigers also contains Skinned (white) Tiger Nuts which are perfect for use as a hookbait option,so making this jar even more attractive.

Cooked Hot Hemp is probably the most successful seed bait ever used in angling, Hemp needs no introduction. However, even with its incredible track record we (and many anglers) feel that the addition of a specific human food-grade Chilli Powder has enhanced its impressive attraction profile even further.

Live System Slurry

Live System boillies incorporate a number of ingredients that have not been widely used before in UK bait production. This bait therefore presents fish with a completely different food item to those which they encounter more regularly. With the inclusion of milk proteins, yeasts, textured vegetable proteins, bird foods, cream powders, Corn Steep Liquor Powder and other very digestible ingredients, Live System represents the ideal choice for year-round application where a stronger, sweeter bait with a distinctive aroma is required.

Here are some of the ingredients that go into my sludge solution. White Haze, Red Venom, Meteor boillies, crushed hemp and halibut pellets.

Into the bucket place the White Haze, boillies and hemp.

For an overnight i use a third of the jar of White Haze, 1 tin of hemp, about two handfuls of Meteor or Live System boillies!

Live System Pellets are produced in 5mm size, Live System Pellets breakdown within 2 hours of being immersed in even the coldest water. This allows them to release powerful appetite stimulants that send acute food signals over long distances through all periods of the year.

White Haze is a superb combination of white and cream coloured particles presents a milky, bright and visually attractive carpet feed option full of proven fish catching baits. Cooked in the container with our recently developed white nut liquid, this mix of Haricot Beans, Groats, Wheat, Crushed Peanuts and Coarse Ground Tigris also contains Skinned (white) Tiger Nuts which are perfect for use as a hookbait option,so making this jar even more attractive.

Sweet Nut Cloud Spod Mix is a combination of crushed nuts, cream palatants and milk powders has been produced for use with several applications in mind. Producing an incredibly soluble, milky cloud of nut particles, Sweet Nut Cloud is perfect for use when zig rigging as it ensures that sweet, creamy flavours and aromas spread through the water at all levels. This allows the anglers to stimulate fish to feed at all times of the year regardless of the depth (layers) where fish are holding up.

The Live System Slurry is made up like the Meteor Sludge the big difference is that I add some Live System Dip instead of Red Venom and I also add some Condensed milk and I make the mix far more runny than the Meteor mix.

I introduce both of these mixes to the area that I am fishing with a Cobra baiting spoon. I tend to spread the sludge and slurry mixes over a large area so that the boillies in the mix become scattered over the lake bed.

My preferred rig is a simple Pop up presentation which sits in the middle of a world of attraction.

So if you fancy creating something a little different then why not create your own sludge or slurry!

Till the next times good luck..

I now add about a pound of Cantax pellets if using the Meteor boillies. If I am using the Live System then I would use the LS pellets.

The mixture should look like this!

Now add a Kettle full of boiling water so that the mixture is totally covered!

Now add about two capfuls of the Red Venom to the boiling water

It disperses straight away creating a rich red slick on the surface of the mix.

Now give the whole lot a good mix to create the sludge.

Im lucky as I have a willing volunteer who loves mixing things up!
