

XXX – just making it happen.

So far this year I have been having great success using a very simple but extremely high quality mix of CC Moore's products. The mix itself is very simple and only contains three products which I have total confidence in. These are Odyssey XXX boilies, Betaine Ultramix pellets and the excellent liquid food, Krill Amino Compound.

Although it only contains three ingredients, this mix is unbelievably attractive. I've witnessed carp absolutely tear up the bottom as they desperately feed on every last morsel of this irresistible loose feed.

Another real benefit of this mix is the ease in which it can be prepared. I always prepare my mix around an hour and a half before I'm going to use it to allow the liquid to soak into the pellets and boilies.

I start by adding the required amount of the Betaine Ultramix pellets into a bucket. This product is a mixture of four sizes of Betaine-boosted halibut pellets and is very attractive to all fish; these pellets are in my opinion the best there is!

I then as a rule add 1kg of the awesome Odyssey XXX boilies and crush up around half of the baits before adding them to the pellets.

I then mix them all together and add a generous amount of the new Krill Amino Compound from the CC Moore liquid food range.

As a rule of thumb I tend to add a cap full to the mix before giving it a really good shake until all the liquid is evenly spread throughout the mix.

I then leave the mix for an hour or more to allow the boilies and pellets to completely soak up the liquid food. This leaves you with a sticky, highly attractive mix that releases numerous potent food signals through the different layers of the water pulling in fish from all different depths right throughout the year.

This universally effective mix is also very versatile, and with the huge range of high quality liquid foods on offer from CC Moore you can easily personalise your mix by using any one of a number of soluble, semi-soluble or oil-based liquids from their range. Give it a try and see what a difference it can make!

Good luck, Sam Bascombe.

For details of the products Sam has used to achieve his outstanding results, click on the pictures below.

Betaine Ultramix

Krill Amino Compound

Odyssey XXX Boilies

