

CC Moore Liquid Bloodworm Extract

With winter fast approaching it's time to pull out all the stops and do something special to get a bite in the increasingly difficult conditions. We all know that carp love bloodworm as it's one of the natural organisms they regularly feed on in their environment. That is why it makes sense to take advantage this winter by adding CC Moore's Liquid Bloodworm Extract to your spod, stick and pellet mixes in order to give yourself a real edge when trying to catch that all-important winter whacker.

Liquid Bloodworm Extract is PVA friendly so is ideal for adding to your bag mixes to ensure they ooze with the maximum amount of natural attraction. When using solid PVA bags, it's best to fill the bags up with pellets and then pour in neat Liquid Bloodworm Extract before sealing the bag. This is my preferred method as it instantly releases maximum attraction once the bag dissolves, and has given me bites in literally minutes, even in the most challenging conditions. To give a slower release of attraction, pre-soak your pellets in Liquid Bloodworm Extract and put them in mesh bags to ensure a steady release of attraction.

Liquid Bloodworm Extract is available from www.ccmoore.com and stockists of the CC Moore range for around £10.99 for 500ml. It is definitely one of those products that you must have in your armoury this winter, get on the naturals and boost your chances of a bite!

Kev Hewitt

