

Custom Boilie Service – by Ollie Pearce

The satisfaction of catching on your own bait is a great feeling, even more so if you've taken the time to establish something different and nobody else knows what you're using, so therefore can't copy it and jump on your hard work!

The CCM Custom Rolling options are endless. There is something for everyone, whether you want to tweak one of the four standard freezer baits to create a slightly different label, or you're thinking about your own recipe from scratch – it can be catered for! For example, adding something like the legendary Robin Red to a basemix that doesn't contain it already and/or perhaps using a different liquid food/flavour blend to offer a distinctive difference. Subtle changes like this may help to keep you one step ahead of other anglers.

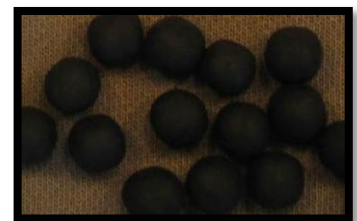

As well as the above, you may suffer badly from bird trouble when baiting up with light coloured baits – try experimenting with the excellent range of bait dyes to help darken the finished product and at the same time, not drastically change the finished attraction properties of the bait, which may occur with a change of ingredients.

If your confidence is sky high (which it should be!) in either Odyssey XXX, N-Gage XP, Live System or Meteor but you require baits bigger than 18mm, they can be rolled in whatever size you require (up to 32mm) in both round and dumbbell/pellet varieties.

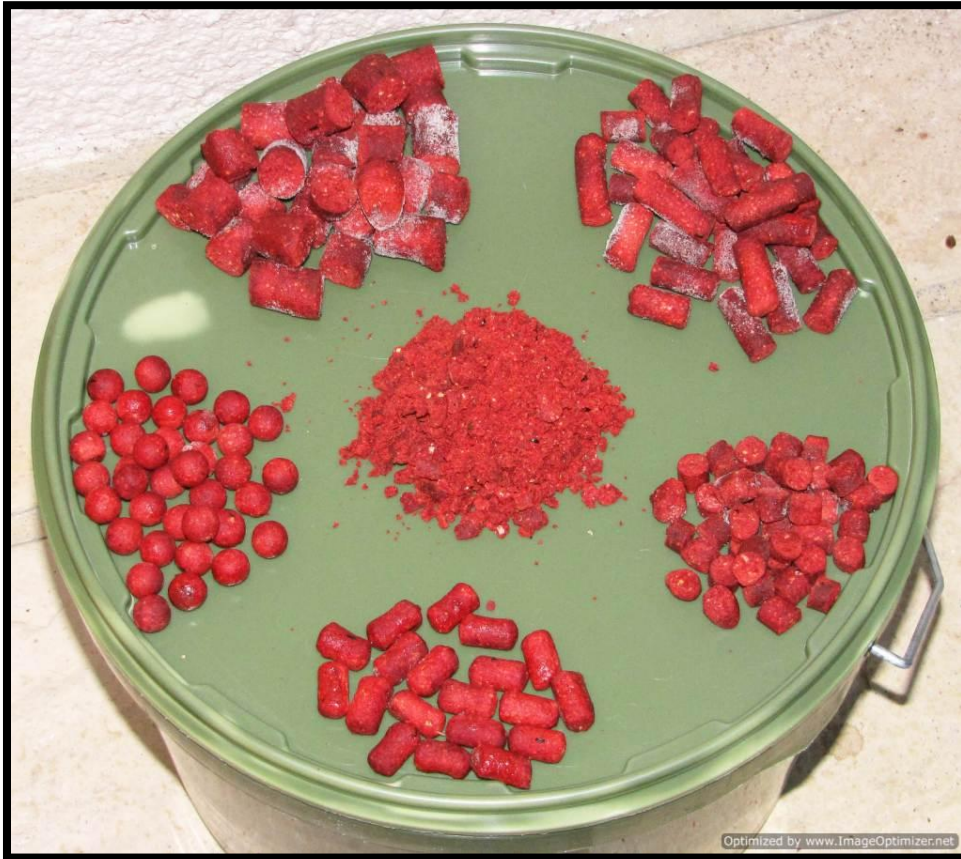

Rolling your own bait can be time consuming but financially beneficial, particularly so if you have equipment that can cope with 5/10kg+ batches at a time. If you want to achieve different sized baits without having to change nozzles/tables, try gunning out the boilie paste and then boiling the sausages. Then, after they have cooled down, simply cut the sausages with a blade to the size that you need. Another plus point about this is that there won't be a boiled skin around the whole of the bait and the paste-like inner will be exposed, thus leaking more attraction into your swim. If you wish to experiment with something like this, your dry basemix can be mixed and delivered to your door for you to then roll it in whichever way(s) you want.

The red bait pictured here contains 20% Robin Red, fruity additives and Liver Powder at elevated levels on a Milk/Birdfood base – the world is your oyster!
