

Liquid Shrimp Extract

From CC Moore

The first time I took a look at this product I knew it would become an awesome part of my baiting armoury, in fact anyone's that is looking for that little edge over others.

Using natural food liquids as any addition to your baits, spod or stick mixes has become and will continue to be a major part of my baiting patterns as the carp we all love and fish for become cuter year upon year.

Being a massive fan of Belachan which is also a product of the mentioned shrimp family, I knew that having a liquid form of such an incredible natural food would open up a whole range of ideas that you can use to your advantage.

The shrimp extract is a lovely dark chunky textured liquid food, with a very rich oceanic aroma, which helps on its own when adding this to things like stick mixes etc as it helps bulk out the free offerings nicely whilst also giving the fish something to single out and devour as they quite often will do with all sorts of natural food that we cannot normally provide for them. The fact that the shrimp extract also naturally contains very high levels of the antioxidant 'canthaxanthin' means the carp and other species of fish will not only find this irresistible but they know that the huge health benefits they will gain from this food source will be something that will help them through this long winter period ahead.

The shrimp extract is no one trick pony either, it is P.V.A friendly, which lends itself nicely to things like solid bags etc which on the first time of taking this out and using it in conjunction with the Hemp 'n' Halibut Stick Mix, (devastating combination) it took 2 fish from a local park lake whilst nothing else that day got caught!

Proof in the pudding I say, give it a go!

Benji Brettle

Liquid Shrimp Extract is available from www.ccmooore.com and their stockists for £10.99 for 500ml.