

Mini ultra-mix

The mini ultra-mix is the ultimate readymade pellet combination on the market. The mix is a combination of mini halibut, trout, salmon micro-feed, betaine hnv and shrimp meal pellets. These pellets range between 0.2mm and 3mm in size creating a beautiful carpet feed. The benefits of having different sized pellets in one mix is that they all break down at different times therefore, meaning food signals are constantly being given off throughout the water column as the pellets are slowly breaking down.

I have had huge success on these pellets on a low stock pit I am currently fishing and massive success on the regular circuit waters, I have caught everywhere I have taken it, giving me huge confidence to take it anywhere in whatever conditions I am faced with in my day to day angling.

A recent stunner, which tipped the scales just short of 30lb, taken on the mini ultra-mix with my own twist.

There are a few things I do to 'pep' up my mix. You will need to;

- Into an Empty bag, place three large handfuls of the pellet mix in.
- Add Two, capfuls of trout and halibut oil.
- Add One, capful of salmon oil.
- Now shake and this will place a light coating on all the pellets.

I have been using the mini-ultra mix pellets to great effect using this combination of oils. Fished in solid bags it has turned into my “take anywhere” approach.

Since adapting the mix I have begun to notice a large slick appears on the surface of the lake when a fish is feeding or has disturbed the area, which nine times out of ten results in a take!! I couple the mix in the solid bag with a hell-raiser pop-up generally perfect pineapple or acid pear two awesome hook baits to take anywhere.

Since using it at the start of this year I am yet to have a blank session on it.

Get on the mini ultra-mix and it will transform your fishing...it has mine!!

Until next time,

Jason Edmunds.
