

Salmon Microfeed – Billy Smith

The Salmon Micro Feed pellets are perfect for Spod mixes, stick mixes, groundbait and solid bags. In my opinion, I think that the salmon micro feed pellets are the best pellets on the market, mainly because they create a fishy smell in the water therefore creating a fish frenzy making the fish turn to your hookbait. Also, when using the salmon micro feed I recommend using fishy flavoured baits.

Solid bags

Salmon micro feed pellets are perfect for solid bags; the reason for this is because the pellets are around 1mm which makes the bag more compact and solid which helps the bag able to reach over 150yds+. As I said using a fishy hookbait with your bag also helps maximise your chances of outwitting a big carp.

Stick mixes

I have gone through success and failure to try and create the perfect stick mix; now I have found the perfect mix. The mix I have found successful consists of Tuna, salmon micro pellets, and N-Gage Stick Mix. I do recommend using one of the CC Moore's stick mixes mainly because I find that while using the pellets in conjunction with the ground bait it's the ultimate carp attractor.
