

GREEN LIPPED MUSSEL EXTRACT - Tim Richardson

WHAT A BAIT LEGEND!

CC Moore de-fatted green-lipped mussel contains very high levels of the top natural feeding trigger betaine, making it a superb additive choice in all baits...

There was a time when if I added nothing else to my baits I would add green-lipped mussel extract but this form is about as potent as it gets!

Part of the trick with betaine is delivering it in natural form within a nutritional carrier, rich in amino acids so the betaine really works to maximum effect stimulating feeding – but so carp senses don't get over-loaded too quickly.

This GLM is so awesomely productive... it has proven highly effective in such a vast range of baits that its inclusion is almost taken for granted!

It is not just effective in fish meal or savoury meat baits but in bird food and milk protein boilie baits, yeast based baits, and even in very cheap cereal based baits.

Even in ground baits and pastes it works outstandingly well...try it alongside Enzyme-Treated Liver and Enzyme-Treated Yeast powders, or Squid Powder and Enzyme-Treated Fish Protein, Robin Red, and Liquid Molasses etc.

It is also very successfully used with Liquid Betaine, Liquid Mussel Extract, Liquid Super Slop, Marine Amino Compound, Red Venom, Liquid Liver, Liquid Salmon and Krill Extract and of course Feedstim XP in stick, method and boilie base mixes.

Remember...don't be afraid to be generous with it. It can be used in hookbaits at up to 50% inclusion rate; after all, fish would happily eat whole green-lipped mussels!
